

to Francis Gieswold^{2d}, as the records show, in the early 1800's. and Henry Curtis, married to Eliza Banning. For the accurate dates and the ^{excellent} photography, I give sincere thanks to two untiring seekers of this, for Donald and D. Robert Powell, the twins of Helen Russell Powell and Walter Powell whose roots through Ora Loomis Russell ^{and Wm Russell} the daughter of Theron Loomis and Emma Squires bring us back to Laura Gieswold Loomis and Hiram Loomis. Now you begin to see why Jane and Francis are so endeared to the family.

Now I will show you the picture of the two Gieswold ladies, Laura and Louisa also thanks to the Powell twins.

Since Louisa married Henry B. Curtis and bore him eleven children, ~~who~~ I am proud to show you the nine Curtis family who lived good lives for so many years and carried on the tradition of their elders.
